

I want to give a special thank you to my father-in-law, Warren Bliss, for all the times he would secretly go and visit my dad in the hospital and give him hope. Warren would pray with my dad and tell him how much Jesus loved him, and if he asked for forgiveness, God would forgive him. My dad would speak of his visits. The last one made my dad cry, and I knew he had asked Jesus into his heart. For that, Warren, you're a Godly Servant and I am eternally grateful. -

He's Still My Dad

She was due in 6 months
He traded school for working at the yard
The parents said you'll have to marry
Still he never stopped his drinkin' and playin' hard
She tried her best to believe in love
With 3 more little children on the way
But she could never tame him
I remember seeing her beg him to stay

CHORUS:
But he's still my Dad
He's the only one that I will ever have
He's still my Dad
And I know some people thought he was all bad
Despite it all I loved him still
Cause even after all, he's still my Dad

I went to church at eight years old
When I came home he scared me half to death
I told him I met Jesus
He cursed and poked his finger in my chest

I cried myself to sleep that night
As he poured his biggest drink
The Devil wanted to keep my Dad
At least that's what I think.

CHORUS:
But he's still my Dad
He's the only one that I will ever have
He's still my Dad
And I know some people thought he was all bad
Despite it all I love him still
Cause even after all, he's still my Dad

BRIDGE:
Daddy asked forgiveness at the age of 68 as he closed his eyes and held my hand I watched him slip away
CHORUS: And he's still my Dad He's the only one I will ever have He's still my Dad
And I know some people thought he was all bad Despite it all I love him still
Cause even after all, he's still my Dad

CHORUS:

And he's still my Dad

He's the only one I will ever have

He's still my Dad

And I know some people thought he was all bad

Despite it all I love him still

Cause even after all, he's still my Dad
