

Merry Christmas in Heaven

Woke up this morning just missing you
You're in everything I see and all I do
Christmas coming on and we're worlds apart
You're so alive here in my heart

There we are still dancing up on that tree
A little smiling ornament of you & me
Forever together on this holiday
But now it's just the stereo where memories play

Merry Christmas in Heaven
It isn't quite as merry down here
Merry Christmas, Mary
We miss you so much this year

Family's flying in from Christmas past
Echoes of your laughter we try to make it last
Conversations all those coffees extra extra cream
You pulled us all together like a Christmas dream

Merry Christmas in heaven
We're missing you so much my dear
Merry Christmas, Mary
It's just not the same down here

Bridge: We all raise a silent glass as we think of you
Then someone cracks a joke "what would Mary do?"
You'd be smiling mending fences that others broke
Soothing any careless words that others spoke
Merry Christmas, Merry Christmas

We all remember gentle hands and Mary hugs
You knew all our secrets but you'd never judge

So keep smiling down on us, we'll do our part
To pull ourselves together, heal each other's hearts

Merry Christmas in Heaven
Heaven's bound to be more joyful with you there
Merry Christmas Mary
It's just not the same without you here
Merry Christmas in heaven my dear
